

Albert Ward

albertjamesward@gmail.com

 LinkedIn  Website

 GitHub  Google Scholar

Professional experience

University of Cambridge

ERC Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Politics

Cambridge

2026 – Present

More in Common

Senior Research Fellow

London

Jan – Jul 2026

- Led original funded national and international research on behavioural science
- Wrote and spoke on public opinion for policy, media, and academic audiences
- Statistical modelling (incl. MRP) of public opinion data

BBC

Elections Analyst

London

2024 – 2026

- On-air analysis and editorial support during national election coverage
- Part of the small team that produced the 2024 general election exit poll

Harvard University

Visiting Fellow, Dept of Government

Cambridge, MA

2024 – 2025

- Externally funded polling project on US political polarization
- Advised graduate researchers on quantitative methods

Jesus College and Hertford College, Oxford

Lecturer in Politics

Oxford

2023 – 2025

- Lectures and seminars across politics modules; managed tutors and course design
- Designed and led R-based quantitative methods teaching
- Undergraduate supervision and dissertation advising

United Nations Development Programme

Report Author

Oxford and New York

2023 – 2024

- Designed survey instruments and weighting for the Peoples' Climate Vote (73,000 respondents, 50 countries)
- Managed research assistants across country teams
- Co-authored the final report (see PUBLICATIONS)

LSE British Politics and Policy

Writer

Remote

2022 – 2023

- Policy analyses for policy and media audiences; commentary for national broadcasters

Oxford University / UK Parliament

Early career research

Oxford & London

2020 – 2022

- Quantitative and qualitative research on social division, cited in national media

Education

University of Oxford

DPhil (PhD) Political Science

2021 – 2025

- Thesis on how neighbourhood context shapes political attitudes and behaviour, using high-resolution electoral data and original surveys. Supervised by Prof James Tilley
- Designed and ran surveys and experiments in Europe and the US
- Nominated for APSA William Anderson Award for best thesis

London School of Economics

MSc (Hons) Comparative Government (Distinction)

2019 – 2020

University of York

BA (Hons) Philosophy, Politics and Economics

2016 – 2019

Media & public engagement

BBC elections analyst for the 2024 general election and the 2024 and 2025 locals. Contributor to The Times, The Guardian, The Spectator, LSE British Politics and Policy, OxPol, and the Oxford Review of Books; appearances on the PoliticsHome and ITV News podcasts

Selected publications

Our Land: Why Place Defines Us. Book manuscript

'Predicting reproducibility and robustness of economics and political science research'.

Revise and resubmit at Nature Human Behaviour (w/ Abel Brodeur and others)

2025. Regional spending does not affect support for the European Union. Journal of European Public Policy (Lead author, w/ James Tilley and Sara Hobolt)

2024. Peoples' Climate Vote. New York: United Nations Development Programme (w/ Steve Fisher and others)

Research expertise

Evidence-led behavioural and political science research across quantitative and qualitative methods: spanning public opinion, survey research, experiments and focus groups, advanced statistical modelling (MRP, causal inference, machine learning) and the analysis of large-scale administrative, electoral and geographic data. Working primarily in R and Python. Particular strength in grounding policy in robust evidence and turning complex findings into clear briefings and interactive visuals for decision-makers, media and the public